Brian Sconyers is asked to review the licensing examination for securities professionals by the North American Securities Administrators Association

For immediate release

In January, Brian Sconyers of Sconyers Warmbrod Capital Management, LLC was asked by Fred Joseph, President of the North American Securities Administrators Association (NASAA), to assist in reviewing the content of the state licensing examinations for securities professionals. NASAA is asking Brian to work with their test development contractor, Prometric, to ensure his daily activities and the skills that are required to handle those activities are reflected in the exams that new investment professionals take to enter the industry. “This is a great opportunity to influence how the exams are structured and what areas should be emphasized.” said Sconyers.

The North American Securities Administrators Association is responsible for investor protection and efficient capital formation in the state and territorial securities agencies.

Sconyers Warmbrod Capital Management is a private investment firm in Franklin, TN. Any questions or comments of this should be addressed to Allison Sconyers, director of communications, at asconyers@sconyersgroup.com.
